LEARN SMARTER.....LEARN BETTER

ENGLISH STUDY

UPC provides a wide range of English courses from beginning to advanced level. We prepare English skills for overseas students who want to enter university, advanced college or the Australian workforce. There are four basic programs:

English for Pre-Foundation Studies - Teaching general English from beginning to intermediate

English for Academic Purpose - Preparing students for university or advanced college

English for Specific Purposes - 3 specialist English programs: Science, Technology and Business

Preparation for IELTS - Providing training to students who want to proceed directly to university or vocational programs or who want to enter the Australian workforce through permanent residential status.

Our English courses can be "packaged" for entry to many Australian universities and colleges

BUSINESS (ACCOUNTING)

Diploma of Accounting (FNS50204) CRICOS 062084M

Certificate III in Accounting (FNS30304) CRICOS 062083A

You will spend the first 6 months on the Certificate 3 program and another 6 months to complete the Diploma. The Accounting program is designed for people who intend to work in accounting and seek professional identification in Australia through one of the professional accounting bodies.

The course covers skills and knowledge required to operate account systems in a range of businesses up to complex corporate financial management.

UPC graduates with good grades can articulate to a university degree.

CHILDCARE (CHILDREN'S SERVICES)

Diploma of Children's Services (CHC50908) CRICOS 071623C

Certificate III in Children's Services (CHC30708) CRICOS 071619K

This childcare program is designed for both Australian and overseas students. You must have an interest in child development but you are not expected to have previous experience in child care. The Diploma course covers childcare and centre management. You study child development, behaviour management, staff support, working with parents and the community, centre management and leadership.

The Program has over 420 hours of work placement which qualifies you as a childcare worker, childcare program group or team leader, childcare centre manager and childcare co-ordinator.

UPC graduates with good grades can articulate to a university degree.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (NETWORKING)

Diploma of IT (Networking) (ICA50405) CRICOS 062088G

Cert IV in IT (Networking) (ICA40405) CRICOS Code 062087G

Certificate II in IT (ICA20105) CRICOS Code 062086J

You have to complete the Certificate II in IT before taking on the Certificate IV in IT (Networking) or the Diploma of IT (Networking). The Diploma course covers skills and knowledge in high level LAN and WAN network design, installation and system management.

This is an area of high demand for skilled people in Australia and overseas. UPC graduates with good grades can articulate to a university degree.

ABOUT UPC COLLEGE

University Preparation College (UPC) is an Australian Government registered English college (ELICOS) and an accredited Registered Training Organisation (RTO)

WHERE WE ARE LOCATED

Our home is Sydney Australia where the environment is wonderful for study and well being. Our main campus is in Bankstown a culturally rich city about 30 minutes by train from Sydney Harbour Bridge.

We are not a large college which means we can deliver a more personal training program. We pay particular attention to our students individual needs both social and educational.

WHAT CAN A STUDENT EXPECT AT UPC?

First and foremost, dedicated professional teaching staff. We employ our staff for their teaching expertise and their industry experience but also for their ability to communicate with the students. Just as our students come from many different countries, so do our teachers.

We encourage and reward our students for their effort and we see the results in their pathway to further education at university or in the form of well paid quality employment. Our students success and happiness give us great pleasure.

Being a student at UPC is not all books and computers we have a program of regular cultural study tours, visiting world renowned Australian icons such as our House of Parliament, the Blue mountains and our snow fields as well as museums and art centres. There are also more course related visits to the home of industry relative to the students area of study.

BUILDING ON SUCCESS

As part of UPC's continuing growth we expect to offer the following additional vocational program during 2010

Diploma of Business
